Technology and hosting

ProVerne products are offered as Software-As-A-Service and are deployed on Amazon Web Services, allowing us to further guarantee stability and systems security.

And, unlike many SaaS solutions, ProVerne tools are device-agnostic and can be accessed through any standard web or mobile browser, eliminating roll-out/upgrade downtime, supporting Crew "Bring Your Own Device", and having NO requirement for additional software or applications to be installed.

Implementation and Support

ProVerne's unique, rapid-prototyping implementation approach gives you a solution tailored to your organization with an amazing time-to-market. Typically, you'll see your first iteration in two weeks or less and from there we'll work closely with your team to make sure that layouts, dashboards and workflows all are optimized to your unique operation. With ProVerne, there are no surprises, and every engagement is an opportunity to exceed expectations.

ProVerne stands apart from other providers in that we are on a constant mission to ensure that you are receiving maximum value for your investment. Everything, from the application to payments and administration, is designed to reduce overhead and keep you focused on the business.

And once you're live, we continue to support you with customized SLAs based on your airline requirements, as well as a dedicated JIRA portal for reporting and tracking service issues.
